

END STILL AFAR OFF.

LUTGERT TRIAL WILL LAST SEVERAL WEEKS LONGER.

WAR OF EXPERTS CONTINUES.

LUTGERT LIKELY TO BE ON THE STAND FOR A WEEK.

Will Have His Intense Desire to Talk to the Jury Satisfied—Expert Testimony Has Been of Advantage to the Prosecution.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The close of the sixth week of the celebrated trial of Adolph L. Luetgert for the alleged murder of his wife showed the case far from completed. Luetgert's story has not been heard. The big sausage-maker may be on the stand a week. It will take him over one court day to tell his story under the lead of his counsel. Then will come the cross-examination of State's Attorney Dennis, who is recognized as one of the best cross-questioners at the Chicago bar. Luetgert will be carried through a history of his life in whirlwind fashion. Then he will experience a cyclonic sweep through the important matters brought out by his direct examination. Luetgert has all along expressed an intense desire to talk. He has repeatedly declared that he wanted to tell his story to the jury. It is predicted that the anxiety of the accused man to talk will be fully satisfied before his cross-examination is closed if he goes on the witness stand, and ex-Judge Vincent, chief counsel for the defense, has promised that Luetgert will be heard.

The greater part of last week was devoted to threshing over old straw. It was another battle of experts, fought along the old line with varying results. The consensus of opinion at the close of the week this afternoon was that the prosecution had the better of the argument as to pseudotumor, metacarpals, temporals, phalanges, femurs and other bones of the human body, as well as the lower order of animals. Experts of the defense have contradicted each other on cross-examination. They have also made blunders in the identification of bones, which annoyed the jurors and apparently weakened their testimony. Dr. Alford made two bad mistakes on Friday, when he identified the femur of a gorilla as that of a man and a piece of the skull of a dog as belonging to a monkey. To-day, Dr. Merril added to the confusion of the defense by identifying a hog femur in a manner in direct conflict with the identification of Dr. Alford of the same bone on Friday. Dr. Alford said the bone in evidence was the upper hip joint portion of the femur. Dr. Merril testified positively that the bone was the lower end of the femur.

Professor Eckley, instructor of anatomy and physiology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, the Northwestern university and the University of Illinois, proved to be the most entertaining witness produced to-day. The professor is the possessor of a peculiar voice. Ex-Judge Vincent headed the witness a bone and asked: "Is that a human bone?"

"I am unable to say," replied the expert.

"What is this bone?" asked the lawyer, passing up another specimen.

"It is the articular surface of the head of a bone. I am unable to say whether human or from a lower animal."

"Have you ever examined this bone I handed you?"

"I have."

"Is it human or not?"

"I could not possibly place that bone in any animal to save my soul. It would require the most absolutely extravagant speculation to do so."

This profound and scholarly admission created a roar of merriment which the court bawled found some difficulty in restraining.

Assistant State's Attorney McEwen produced further laughter by gravely requesting the court to "strike the soul from the record."

"You must only give your own conclusions from personal observations," remarked Judge Taylor, who presided. The bone which had puzzled the expert was a portion of a rib which had been introduced by the prosecution.

Both of the hands of Charles Boos, a stenographer in the state's attorney's office, are swollen badly by the shelling of Boos has been reporting the Luetgert trial and has handled the bones placed in evidence quite freely. A physician who examined the stenographer's hands this morning showed evidence of tubercular germs. The result may be serious.

The trial will last at least three weeks longer.

TEXAS EDITOR MOBBED.

Publisher of Braun's Iconoclast Is Roughly Handled by a Crowd of Angry Students.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 2.—W. C. Braun, editor of Braun's Iconoclast, was the victim of a mob of 20 students of the University of Texas Baptist institution, this afternoon. Mr. Braun was sitting in his publishing house, when four men, students of the institution, called him to the door. When they entered, he and thrust him into a back, which he rapidly drove to the college campus. His captors were armed with revolvers. At the campus a mob of 20 students were gathered, a mob of 20 students were gathered, a mob of 20 students were gathered. They seized Mr. Braun, pulled him here and there and threatened to shoot him. A rope was produced and cries of "Hang him!" arose on all sides.

Mr. Braun, under threats of death, was compelled to sign a statement declaring that an article appearing in the October number of the Iconoclast, regarding the Taylor university, was untrue, and, further, that he would leave town.

This article was the cause of the action of the students. Great excitement was caused by the incident and crowds are discussing it in the streets to this night. The action of the mob is generally condemned. By the expressions heard to-night it is thought that the mob is not at an end. Mr. Braun declares that he cannot be given from this city and will continue his publication here.

Peter and John went right to work at each other and when the girl's father finally separated the two, John was minus a thumb and Peter's ear had been chewed off. It was a tie, but Peter settled it by leaving the country and John claims the girl.

Two blacksmith shops were broken open and the necessary tools taken. The first attempt to blow open the safe failed, and a number of persons were awakened by the noise made. The next attempt completely demolished the safe, hurling its doors forty feet. The glass in the building was shattered and much of the furniture damaged. The amount in the safe was between $2,000 and $3,000. Considerable of the silver was twisted out of shape, some pieces being hurled through the windows into the street. The bills and papers in the safe were scattered in shreds about the room. The second explosion brought out the town, but the robbers had escaped. The only clue is the footprints, one a wide toe, the other narrow and pointed. Two men in light-colored clothing were seen running through the cornfields near Allen late this evening. The sheriff, with a posse of about sixty men, is scouring the country, and it will be almost impossible for the robbers to escape.

BANK ROBBERS AT HUME, MO.

Hume, Mo., Oct. 2.—The Hume bank was entered early this morning by two masked men, who, with two nitro-glycerine explosions, made an opening in the big steel safe containing about $5,000 in cash, but did not get the money. Sol Moore, who gave the alarm, was compelled by the robbers to stand and watch the operations at the point of their guns. Marshal Pat Powers arrived and put the robbers to flight. They stole a horse and carriage and left for the Kansas line. An armed posse after them and it is expected that they will be caught. The bank building, of brick, was wrecked by the explosion.

IS STILL SPREADING.

THE END OF YELLOW JACK'S REIGN NOT IN SIGHT. AS MANY NEW CASES AS EVER.

FEVER NOW EXISTS AT A DOZEN DIFFERENT CITIES. Four Deaths at New Orleans Yesterday—Effort to Be Made to Modify Quarantine Restrictions—Statement of Missouri Board of Health.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 2.—Numerous cases of yellow fever appeared here to-day, as was expected. The weather is warm and the fact of infection have increased. The malignancy of the disease, however, has not been emphasized. There have been twenty-one new cases and four deaths to-day, but there have been many discharges of patients, among them being Mr. R. F. Reynolds, of the Illinois Central railroad. Mr. Roddy, of the same road, is doing well and his case is not considered serious. The new cases are widely scattered. No section of the city escapes the infection.

Among the new cases to-day is that of Major E. J. Hamilton, a well known insurance man, who is said to be the successor of Chief of Police Gaster. His case is not considered a serious one. Another case developed in the Peridias asylum, where there are now at least half a dozen sick people. The newest case is that of a Sister. The other cases are of children.

Governor Foster to-day sent the following telegram to Governor Culberson, of Texas, and Governor McLaughlin, of Mississippi:

"The presence of yellow fever at New Orleans and other points has resulted in the adoption of such quarantine regulations in many localities in the states of Texas, Mississippi, and Louisiana, as to completely paralyze business and interrupt communication between our people. I have decided to request you to join me in securing a conference between the representatives of the health authorities of our states and the general government to discuss and, if possible, agree upon, a system of quarantine which will insure the safety and health of the people in the non-infected localities and at the same time relieve business and United States mails of useless restrictions. Mr. McLaughlin, of Mississippi, has agreed to this conference to be held by agreement."

Governor Culberson to-night wired the following response to Governor Foster:

"In view of the spread of yellow fever, express or passengers to Texas from New Orleans or other infected parts, but State Health Officer Swearingen will confer with the authorities named at any time and place you may appoint."

Edwards & Moffett, of Kansas City, have been notified that there have been 13 cases of fever officially reported to-day, of which number 10 are white. There was a death to-day, making the total deaths to date 16; cases to date in town and country, 218; number in hospital, 10; number in 178; number now under treatment, 115; number seriously ill, 8. No new cases of black vomit are reported.

Mrs. W. G. Redfield, Sr., and her young daughter, Lillian, are so ill that very little hopes are entertained of their recovery. Mayor Redfield, who had the black vomit yesterday, is doing well to-night.

The occurrence of one case only is taken as evidence that the work of disinfection is having its desired effect.

St. Elmo, Ala., has one case, George Casabary, Jr.

At Fernland there are two cases, Mrs. Mary Deekle and Miss Rosin Deekle. At Scranton, Miss. there are reported to-day five new cases and three suspicious cases.

NO DANGER FROM MISSOURI.

State Board of Health Declares That Texas' Alleged Fears Are Groundless.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—(Special.) The following resolutions were passed by the state board of health at its meeting at the Southern hotel, to-day:

"Whereas, Information from the health authorities of the state of Texas has been received by the board to the effect that that state is in fear of contracting yellow fever from merchandise shipped into the state of Missouri from infected districts and said to be re-shipped to Texas points, and, and carefully examined the books of the board, and critically investigated the shipping departments of the roads over which such merchandise could be shipped, and failed to find where any goods have been received in the state of Missouri, and in no instance in which the merchandise had been re-billed to any place in Texas, and

"Whereas, The board of health of Missouri have called before them Dr. T. O. Brennan, an expert in yellow fever, who stated that he had spent some weeks in Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi, had carefully examined the books of the board, and critically investigated the shipping departments of the roads over which such merchandise could be shipped, and failed to find where any goods have been received in the state of Missouri, and in no instance in which the merchandise had been re-billed to any place in Texas, and

"Resolved, That the state board of health of Missouri, having said all possible diligence to prevent the introduction of yellow fever in the state, and having taken measures to exercise in the future the same care in preventing any shipment of merchandise as complained of, or the transportation of passengers who have not proper health certificates from the municipal, state and national boards of health, there being no ground for the least suspicion of infection coming from that source, and

NOVEL CURE FOR YELLOW JACK

Kentucky Doctor Advises Infusion of African Blood Into Patients' Veins.

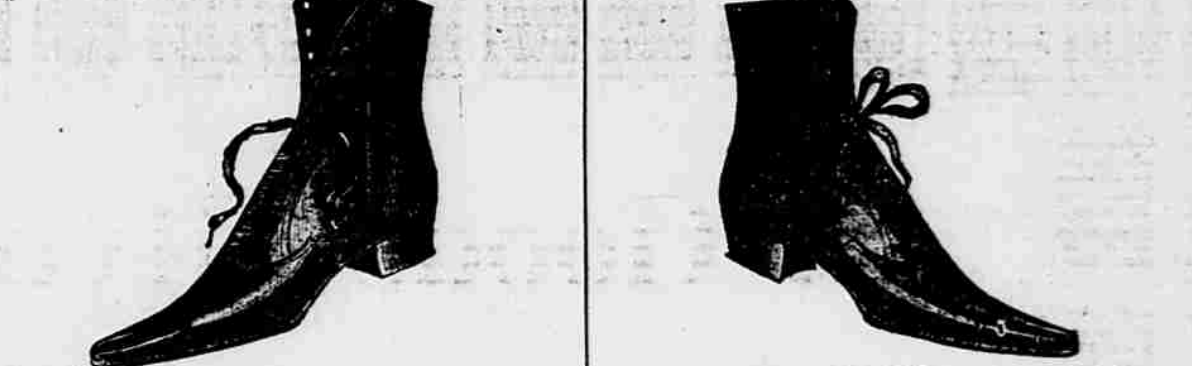

Schree, Ky., Oct. 2.—Dr. G. G. Gutters' statement that New Orleans negroes have yellow fever with facility, though in a very mild form, is true, Dr. A. R. Jenkins, of Kentucky, claims that the pure blooded African has absolute protection. The American negro loses this protection in proportion to his amalgamation, acclimation, etc. He believes that if the New Orleans negro blood were transferred in severe cases it might save life. He believes that in the black's blood serum or cells resides an immunizing antitoxin that will protect the white against taking the disease and that this vital source is far more likely to give the means of saving Southern lives, shipping, and commerce than the artificial bullion cultures of Berlin or other foreign cities. Science, he says, should long have been called to the aid of the human antitoxin, either from a white immunized by a previous attack or from the black immunized by ages of environment.

A CONDUCTOR ROBBED.

Armed Footpads Ply Their Avocation Upon a Cable Train on the Summit Street Line.

Two armed footpads boarded a cable train at Twenty-eighth and Summit streets at 11 o'clock last night and robbed the conductor, Charles Harvey, of $10.35 belonging to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and 50 cents belonging to himself. They boarded the car at the scene of the robbery and shoved revolvers against the conductor's head, at the same time commanding him to hold up his hands. This command was promptly obeyed and some of the robbers then searched his pockets, taking therefrom the amounts named. The grumpy Mr. J. Israel, applied the brake with the intention of stopping the car, but the robbers told him to go ahead and one of them fired a shot at him. They then jumped off the car and disappeared in the darkness. The robbery was reported soon afterward to the police at No. 3 station, on the Southwest boulevard. It was another case of long and short work.

SALE OF UNION PACIFIC. Arrangements for Transferring Government's Interest to the Highest Bidder Perfected.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Ex-Governor Hoadley, counsel for the United States in the matter of the Union Pacific foreclosure sale, spent several hours to-day in conference with Attorney General McKenna, arranging the details of the sale, November 1, and the subsequent transfer of the government's interest in the property to the highest bidder.

Both the attorney general and Mr. Hoadley were reticent regarding what further concessions had been made by the reorganization committee, but it is understood that the committee has acceded to the government's contention that its lien on the Union Pacific road includes the Omaha bridge, and that it has increased its cash bid so as to make the guarantee offer for the property, including the sinking fund now in the treasury, about $50,000,000.

So far as can be learned the reorganization committee will be the only bidder at the sale and in all probability the transfer will be consummated by the payment of the purchase price by December 1, or very soon thereafter.

The committee recognize the fact that the withdrawal from circulation of $50,000,000 in cash at one time might have a very serious effect on the money market, and in consequence are devising a plan by which the force of the shock may be reduced to the minimum. No determination of the question has yet been reached, but it seems probable that the government will make a loan of $50,000,000 to the reorganization committee, the amount may be placed on deposit with government depository banks until January 1, when it will be needed for the redemption of the 6 per cent subsidy bonds maturing on that date. The remainder of the purchase money, it is thought, may be safely transferred to the treasury.

MISSOURI'S PURE VINEGAR LAW.

First Prosecution Under It Resulted in a Conviction at Columbia Yesterday.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 2.—(Special.) The first case ever tried under the pure vinegar law of Missouri was to-day decided in Columbia. W. E. Pitts was fined $50 and costs for selling what purported to be pure apple vinegar, but which, on chemical analysis, proved to be something else. The Missouri general assembly, in 1888, at the solicitation of T. C. McIntyre, of Boone county, and other vinegar manufacturers, passed a law for their protection. The law put restrictions upon the sale of vinegar and provided that it should be made of pure apple cider. Violation of the law was made a misdemeanor. Mr. Pitts will appeal the case to the circuit court, where he feels confident of winning.

BOOM FOR HENRY GEORGE.

Movement on Foot to Overthrow the Regular Tammany Nomination in His Favor.

New York, Oct. 2.—Henry George is attracting more attention from politicians than any other factor in the municipal campaign. It was learned to-day that a movement is on foot among the rank and file of Tammany to overthrow the regular nomination and at a monster meeting nominate Henry George on the Chicago platform with such additional planks as the local situation may call for. The movement has developed to the extent of a meeting of its promoters informally and to-morrow they will meet and formally organize.

Emphatic and authoritative denials are given to-night to the reports that Tracy or Low will withdraw, and Tammany also declares that Van Wyck is in the race to stay.

The prosecution is pushed by the heirs of Judge Camden, the indictment being found shortly before her marriage to Governor Atkinson. The governor appeared in court with his wife and said that conviction and sentence do not alarm the defendant. She will rely on her husband for a full pardon.
